Due to the generosity of the Morledge family, the students of RMC began the fall semester in a beautiful new building full of updated classrooms. In thanks for this wonderful gift, we dedicate our 2009/10 yearbook to Ms. Patricia Morledge.

Thank You!

Master of Physician Assistant Studies Program

The mission of the Master of Physician Assistant Studies Program (MPAS) is to provide a quality medical education, which integrates academic training with the development of essential clinical skills and professionalism. We seek to graduate individuals who are intellectually engaged, analytical, and are committed to providing compassionate health care services, particularly to those in rural and underserved areas of this region

Once I set upon a journey.
With a friend as my driver
I saw out the window.
In the quietest times,
in the holiest places,
I glimpsed perfection,
and with all its charity
it smiled back at me.

Soliloquy, the annual literary/art journal, is meant to celebrate student creativity in writing and all forms of art. With support from the Katherine Olson family, Soliloquy has expanded greatly over the years. It also includes an awards ceremony ('Voices') where students can read their writing, and art pieces are displayed. English, Art and Theatre faculty, as well as an outside evaluator each year, determine the awards, then turn submissions over to the Soliloquy editors for evaluation as to quality and relationship to theme.

Peace Studies

College student winners of the Gronhoyd Peace Essay Competition (November 2009) - 103 essays - independent panel of judges - four of the five students were Peace Studies staffers and all were from RMC. Anu, Andris, Jing and Fabiano - plus Janie Rife / awards were presented at the Alberta Bair Theater.

Winter concert - We all went to hear Uncle Fafa (Fabiano) including little Dominic. (2009)

These photos were students sharing a taste of an American Christmas - including gingerbread houses. Also in photo - RMC alum Angie Kunz

On February 14, 2010 - we celebrated Lunar New Year with Anu teaching us all to make Buuz and Mongolian potato Salad. It was delicious.
